

8

To: Captain Brown From: Col. Mustard Subject Line: Re: I Research and I know things Captain Brown, Have you been baking your special brownies again? I have no idea as to what you might be referring to. As for a confession – you my dear are not a priest. Also in bolding the words I know what you are – I have a feeling you have come off your meds and should perhaps think about retaking them.
Mustard

9

To: Mrs Scarlett

From: Col Mustard

Subject line: What you are doing is wrong

Mrs Scarlett,

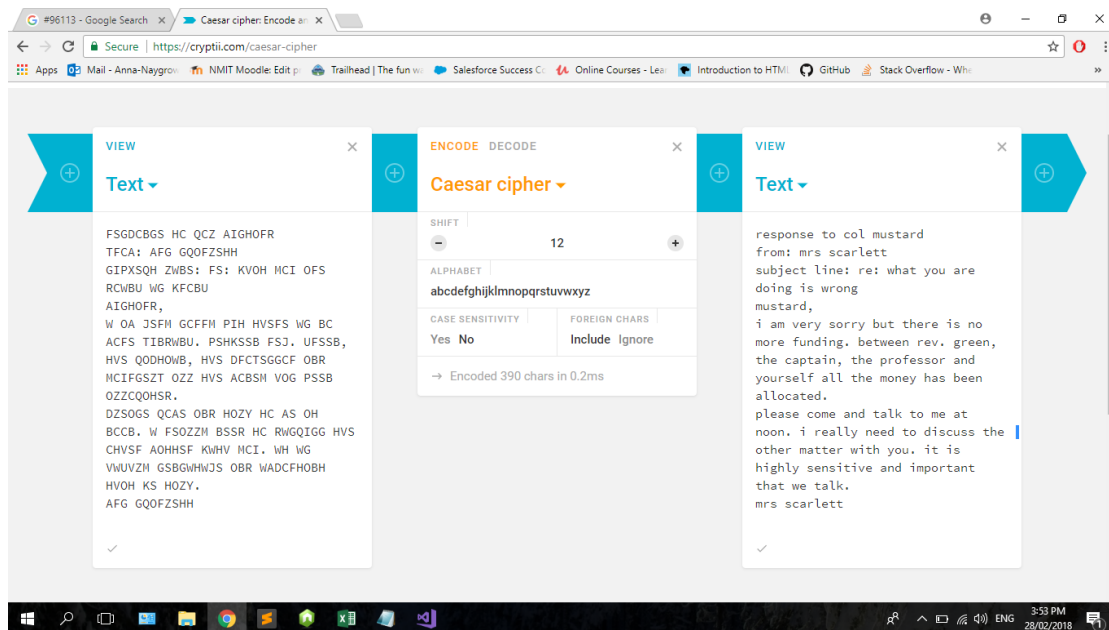

Do you have any idea of the ramifications of your actions? What you and the Professor are doing is morally and ethically wrong. I will not stand for it.

In addition, I need more funding for my research. Could you please see it that the funding is reallocated to me. I believe that the Captain, has been given too much funding and he is throwing into a project that is only going to see him being visited by some medical professionals. His secondary project I think would be far more useful not only to NMIT, our department but also to his mental health.

Sincerely

Mustard

10

To: Mustard

From: Ms Scarlett

Subject Line: You know nothing Colonel Mustard. Nothing!

Mustard,

I must warn you that Plum is on the warpath. He is out for blood. It is your word against ours you have no proof. We have been with the company longer.

Plum has a more established reputation here than you.

Some evidence of hacking has been made available. This evidence is proof that you have been up to some nefarious actions. These actions are against the ethical code. And if you talk, this evidence will be sent to the appropriate people.

You have been warned!

Ms Scarlett

To: Ms Peacock

From: Auckland Hospital – Neurology Department

Subject line: Pending Operation

Dear Ms Peacock,

We have received the referral from your doctor for the aforementioned procedure. As you do not have any current medical coverage, the following is the outline of the costs involved. We are more than happy to set up a payment plan for you.

Procedure/Staff	Cost
Neurologist/Surgeon	$4000
Anasteologist	$2000
Anstesthesia	$200
Operating Room	$200
Supporting Surgeon	$2000
Antibiotics	$300
ICU	$400
Room	$1000
Food	$400
Total	$10,500

Please note the above is only an estimate. Should unforeseen circumstances occur these charges might increase.

Yours sincerely

Finance Department Auckland Hospital.

To: Ms Peacock

From: ANZ Bank

Subject Line: Request for Loan

Dear Ms. Peacock,

We have received your request for a personal loan for $12,000. However, upon looking into your financial records we have noticed that your salary fluctuates and therefore we are declining this request. If you were to garner further hours and a permanent contract, we would gladly relook at this situation.

Yours sincerely

Finance department ANZ Bank

Received: from mpr01cu002.internal.outlook.com by SYXPR01MB1392.ausprd01.prod.outlook.com with HTTP via ME1PR01CA0076.AUSPRD01.PROD.OUTLOOK.COM; , * 2018 13:09:28 +0000

Received: from M*MB1524.ausprd01.prod.outlook.com

14

Response to: Rev Green

From: Ms Scarlett

Subject line: Re: Confession

Green,

You are too late. Mustard is going to talk anyway. His demands are far too high. The reason being is that the money he is requesting is gone. It went to YOU. You spent it on whatever networking equipment.

The image is damning proof of WHAT? How do I know that you did not use your talents and/or the equipment you bought to plant that evidence on Mustard's and Brown's computer.

You do remember what it said in your contract don't you? The section on ethical behaviour. I do believe that hacking is not ethical. You have nothing to stand on; your story is fragmented at best. It will fall apart and you will lose your position.

However if you can find some hard evidence on Mustard, that would help your case. You must provide that evidence soon. The sooner the better for you.

Perhaps God and Justice can help you with this.

Ms Scarlett

15

Response to: Ms Scarlett

From: Col. Mustard

Subject Line: Re: You know nothing Colonel Mustard. Nothing!

Ms Scarlett

What are you talking about? Evidence? Hacking? I have never... well only to get my heart monitor through the damn NMIT firewall. ITS have that thing shut up tighter than Fort Knox.

I went to them and had them image my pc and pull my activity logs. You can examine it if you so wish. It will confirm that I have done nothing wrong. They did however find something. Something that was placed onto my laptop. A German Key Logger. I wonder where that came from. Who do we know that is German and a bit weird? So your accusation of me hacking is null and void.

As for it being your word against mine, I have a video you may want to see. I am heading over to show you. Stay There.

Mustard.

16

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Plum

Subject Line: Re our conversation

Ms Scarlett,

Rev Green has lied to you. I have proof. I resolved that exploit Green was talking about two weeks ago. So he must have been hacking the system for some time!

I have a video that we can use. It shows exactly what Green has been up to. He thinks he can outsmart me. HA. He did not do a good job at clearing his files. This will be useful for us.

Now to deal with the other problem we have.

Plum

17

To: Rev Green

From: Ms Scarlett

Subject Line: Friends in High Places

Green,

I have the proof now. You forget that I have friends in high places. Much higher than you. I know what you did. Drinking and hacking. Really. You are done for. UNLESS... you can come up with some hard evidence against Mustard.

Last chance Green

19.

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Captain Brown

Subject Line: I have the proof

Ms Scarlett,

Colonel Mustard's research must be destroyed. It is all wrong. I will have the proof I need. I know what he is. I will show you today. I will have it all today.

Captain Brown

20.

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Professor Plum

Subject Line: It all must go

Ms Scarlett,

I am wiping the network today. All electronic data must go, including this email. I will make it look like a hardware crash.

Things are coming apart and as you say, it will be bad for us.

The one thing we have left to take care of after the network. You know what that is. Once that is done, we will be fine. I promise.

Plum

21.

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Rev Green

Subject Line: I have the evidence

Scarlett,

I have seen the video, it explains everything. I destroyed it, problem is he backed it up to the cloud.

Now my plan is to wipe the network, all of these emails and all evidence will go. I will get rid of that video. One condition we come to an agreement.

No one knows what I have been doing and no one finds out about you and Plum

Are we in agreement?

Green

2.

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Col Mustard

Subject Line: I believe my life is in Danger

Scarlett,

Brown is off his medication again. He has made threats towards me. I believe he intends to do me harm. If something happens to me, it was him. He has gone off the deep end this time.

You must help me.

Mustard

25.

To: Ms Scarlett

From: Mustard

Subject Line: Brown has gone crazy

Ms Scarlett,

This must be dealt with immediately. Brown was taking photos of me in the shower.

Perhaps we can come to some sort of agreement. You keep him busy and I can see what it is he has been doing and why he might be attacking me. I need to access his phone. I give you my word, you help me now, and all will be forgotten.

Meet me in my office at 930 and we can discuss this further.

Mustard